

Open Positions

Nikonians Academy Workshop Leaders

We are looking for multiple workshop leaders who can commit to teaching a regular schedule of photographic and software workshops in cities throughout North America. If you have an excellent ability to teach and a very good grasp of photography, then we encourage you to apply right away.

The objective of this role is to teach excellent workshops to photographers on topics such as:

- Digital camera operation for the most current Nikon DSLRs
- Lightroom/Photoshop
- Nikon i-TTL Wireless Flash, CLS
- Other topics as necessary (i.e. HDR, studio, portraiture, macro)

Requirements

- Excellent interpersonal and relational skills
- Excellent ability to teach complicated photographic topics
- Burning enthusiasm and excitement for photography
- Good organizational skills
- Solve problems as they arise while in the field
- Very good computer skills for Mac and Windows platforms
- Be fluent in English, both in written and oral communication
- Able and willing to travel and commit time on weekends

This is a contractor position and compensation will be arranged as a revenue sharing agreement between the workshop leader and the Nikonians Academy.

Nikonians is looking for people with exceptional skills who thrive in highly energetic, small and focused teams. As a global community, we believe in our ability to enhance the world of photography and imaging, shortening the learning curve. We rely on a team approach that understands the concept of community spirit, creativity and idealism, which amounts to more than the sum of the individual parts themselves.

Contact

We are looking forward to getting to know you.

Apply today with your detailed resume at

Wlr-200612-1@nikonians.org and refer to the job code WLR-201006-1-US.